INDIAN RUNNER DUCKS.

As there seems to be so little known in this county about the Indian Runners, I think an article sending forth their merits would be very appropriate as I think any one contemplating going into the business would like all the information they could get. The Indian Runner ducks is not an entirely new variety in this country having been imported several years ago from the British Islands and India from which it receives the name of Indian with the runner added to denote its chief peculiarity which is its rapid movement over the ground. Now the following are some of qualities of the Indian Runners. They are the most hearty of all domestic fowls and stand conditions and do well where no other fowls can. In many places the Runners have taken possession and excluded all other fowls owing to the fact that the Runners are hardy bears confinement well and thrives where other breeds of fowls would not exist, besides producing a large amount of eggs. You don't need a pond or a quantity of water just enough to drink and so they can cover their heads. It is no trouble to raise an Indian Runner ducklet as but few accidents befall them. No mite lice, chiggers, cholera, roup, bowel trouble or bothersome pest have any effect on them. No dirt bathes to provide, no flying over fences of neighbors they are hurtless and will take care of themselves if you give them a chance. The runners are more prolific than hens. They lay during the winter and a longer period will thrive on coarser feed with less codding and cheaper housing and eat no more than hens. Best results can be obtained from setting from March to August. The little ducklets should be provided with a shallow vessel with water having plenty of fine sand and gravel in and around it; see that the water is kept deep enough for them to cover their heads as the nostrils are liable to become clogged with mud and feed. Ducklings must not be allowed water to swim in till feathered, getting wet chills them. Who can raise Indian runner ducks? Any one that has as much as a town or city lot even flocks are being raised on the roofs of large hotels. There are more advantages, more profits and more pleasure in raising a flock of Indian Runners than any business I know of and especially for women. Its light work and very fascinating. The opportunity is open to you, now is the time to grasp it.

FARMERS CLUB MEETS.

The Farmer's Club which was recently organized at Brodhead, held its first regularly meeting Saturday March 29. Tho the attendance was not so good as anticipated the meeting was a great success.

Mr. Barnett the efficient chairman gave an interesting introductory talk on the value of organization for the farmers.

Mr. M. G. Fish gave the results of some valuable experience with cow peas, crimson clover, vetch etc., which was thoroughly appreciated, as evidenced by the lively discussion which followed.

That splendid farmer Mr. J. W. Moore, had an exhibit of seed corn being tested for germination, which was very valuable.

Some very interesting figures were given on destructive insects, by Prof. Lakin of the Graded School.

Prof. Teuton gave a most valuable black-board demonstration on grape growing and pruning. Fertilizers and soil improvement was discussed by I. B. Chestnut.

A splendid addition to the program was the music furnished by Miss Tate and Miss Moore, which was certainly enjoyed by all.

This splendid meeting should have been attended by every farmer in the community.

"Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence

Save Money on your Fencing by Putting up the Style Made to Meet your Requirements

It's downright foolishness to buy light chicken wire to put around your bull pasture—and you know it. But some people do it because they don't think beyond the price-ticket on the roll of fence—at least not until they've had to patch the chicken wire a dozen times or so where that bull went through.

Then they put up a brand new stock fence. There's no economy in that kind of fence-buying. The right fence in the first place costs less.

Our free catalogue tells how to buy fencing economically, effectively, wisely. Get it today and save money.

Every Rod Guaranteed

Ask your dealer for "Pittsburgh Perfect" and insist on his furnishing it. Do not allow him to persuade you that some other fence is just as good. If he doesn't sell it, write us direct.
